Introduction

In this document we will cover in detail several functionality aspects of the android app SOCAL and further explain its capacities and how to operate the app. From the beginning we assume that your device is compatible and the application is already installed (if otherwise, please refer to the “Installation Instructions” document). All of the information on the app will be shared with your google account. For example, if you create an event on your calendar through another method, it will also show up on our app. The other way around is also true, if you create an event through our app, it will be visible on any other app that uses your google account.

Beginning

Open the app

In order to open the app we need to locate it on your device’s app drawer/home screen. Look for this icon and click on it.

Register

If this is the first time you are opening the app, or if you wish to register another gmail account on the app, you first need to enter the desired email and then click on the login button. This will prompt you with a login and authorization page from Google that you have to accept in order to use our app. After the successful registration you will be redirected to the create profile page.

Login

To login in our app you need to enter your email and press the login button present on the first screen. After a successful login you will be redirected to the homescreen.

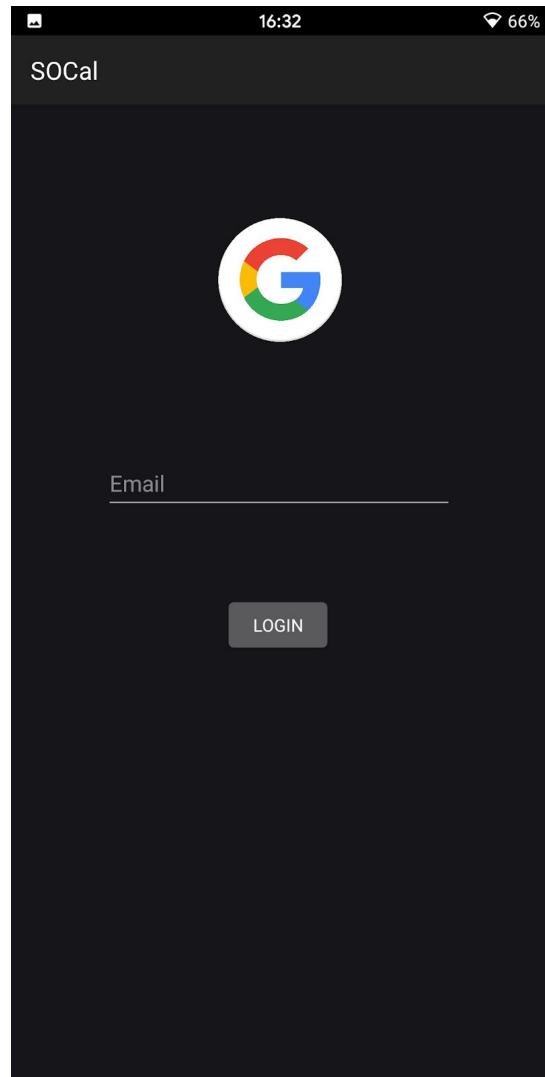

In case of trouble:

-Verify if you have a working network connection

-Confirm that the correct email is being inputted. If you wish to login with a different email, you first need to login with the previous one and logout to disassociate the app with the previous email.

-Our servers could be having troubles, the service might become available after a few minutes.

-Contact us at caldev.app@gmail.com

General App

General navigation

 Calendar

 Events

 Groups

 Profile

To navigate through the app we have this bar at the bottom where we can click on the desired page. We have four main pages, the Calendar, the Events, the Groups and the Profile.

Logout

To logout of our app you can do it from any of these main pages, either by clicking the logout button or the three dot icon and then clicking on “Logout”, both on the top right corner of the page.

Create profile

You land on this page if this is your first time on the app, if you deleted your profile or if you chose to skip the profile creation previously. Here you can enter your information, like username, age, weight and height. If you want to, you can always skip this process but you won't be able to have notifications or access to a premium account without it. Once you're done you can save the information by clicking on the save icon on the top right corner.

Edit profile

If you desire to edit the profile, you can click on the pencil icon on your profile, where you'll be met with a similar page. You can change all your info and then hit save.

Delete profile

If you want to delete your profile and your information from our servers, you can do so by clicking on the 3 dots icon on the top right corner and the on Delete Profile.

Premium Access

As this is still an in-development app we give access to premium to all our users that desire to have it. This unlocks some app functionalities and removes the ad banner. To gain access to premium you must be on the profile page and click five times on the same profile icon you used to reach the page. If you wish to revert this you can repeat the same process.

By being a premium member you have access to:

- Extra notifications
- Create groups and join public groups
- Remove the ads

Notifications

On your profile page you can turn on or disable notifications for events. If you have this setting on you will be notified one hour before the event, fifteen minutes before the event and at the time the event starts.

If you are a premium user, you can also turn on the “Drink water” reminder, that will push notifications to you to, as the name suggests, remind you to stay hydrated.

Calendar and Events

On the calendar page you have a typical calendar view where we can check out things like what day is today, or what day of the week will be on the 30th of February. We can swipe left and right to check other months. If we want we can also double click on a day and it will start an event creation process on that date. On the events page we can see a list of events from the user temporally ordered.

Add events

To add an event through our app we offer two methods. The first one is through the Calendar pagem where we can double click on the desired day to create an event. The second one is on the events page, by clicking on the plus icon on the top right corner of the screen.

Afterwards, this presented page will show up where we can define the event's name, type/category/group, start and end time and date. Then we can click on the save icon to save the event, or just go back if we changed ideas and no longer want to create an event.

Edit events

To edit an event we can just click on him and a similar page to the creation, where all the fields would be already filled with the current information of the event. The user can change any field and save to proceed to edit any event.

Delete events

To delete events we can simply swipe on the event to either side and it will delete the event.

**The user can only edit/delete the events that he is the owner of, therefore he can't modify events from groups that he joined and are not his.*

Cycle viewing list

The user can cycle through the various viewing lists by clicking on the view list name to advance to the next one ("All Events" on the screenshot example). Every user has three default viewing lists, the default "All Events", another that only shows events on this current week, "Week" and another that does the same for the current month called "Month".

Additionally, each user will have an extra viewing list for each group that he owns/is part of.

Check groups

The user can check all the groups that he is in by clicking on the groups icon on the navigation bar. Every user has a default group called “Primary” that holds all of his events that are not part of any group.

Delete/Remove me from Group

To exit from a group we can swipe on the group to either side. If you are a guest on the group you will simply exit and all of the events from that group will be removed from your calendar. If you are the owner of the group, if you delete it, you also delete it to every member on it.

Create group

To create a group we click on the Add icon on the groups page. Then we choose a name to give the group and choose if we want the group to be public or private. Public groups appear on the global search for groups tab and third parties can join them without any control from the owner of the group. Private groups can only be joined if the owner invites other app users.

Search for groups

If you want to search for groups you can do so by clicking on the magnifying glass icon on the top right corner of the groups page. On this new page you can see the list of public apps that you can join simply by swiping the desired group to the left, as the arrow indicates. As default, our app offers a selection of groups that contain all events associated with it that might interest you. For example, if you add the Premier League group to your calendar, every match will appear on your calendar and you will never miss a game.

Check/Add participants

When you are on the list groups page, if you click on one you can see a list of members that belong to it and who is the owner.

If you are the owner, you will have access to a field where you can input the email of other app users to invite them to your group.

*It is only possible to invite people to your club if they're also app users.
